Keynote Speaker - Josh Dueck

From humble beginnings in a small mountain town to casually sitting on top of every major podium, from the Paralympics to the X Games, this story of triumph through tragedy is anything but conventional. Inspired by a generation of mountain enthusiasts before him, it became clear to Josh from an early age that he would dedicate his life to the sport he loved, freestyle skiing. After a tragic accident on skis in 2004 Josh was given a choice; wallow in misery or shift his perception of how one can move through the mountains.

2014 Paralympic Gold Medalist
Canada's Closing Ceremonies Flag Bearer, Sochi 2014
2014 and 2010 Paralympic Silver Medalist
2012 National Geographic Adventurer of the Year
2011 X Games Gold Medalist
Queen's Diamond Jubilee Recipient
First person to perform a backflip on a sit-ski

Inspired by the works of the non-profit foundations he is a part of, Josh and his wife Lacey strive to redefine the rehabilitation process for those living with life altering injury. A blended approach of mentorship opportunities; one part empowerment through adventure aligned with a learning component grounded in mindfulness techniques and yoga. The goal is to create a safe environment that celebrates growth and healing for those living with life altering injury.

Sports are a great unifier. They bring athletes, coaches, parents, and communities together. Tonight this community is uniting to help our players experience a special moment on their athletic journey. The opportunity to attend a National Championship! Tonight's Gala is more than a fundraiser; it's a statement that sports are important in kids' lives. It is an affirmation of our belief in the lasting impact sports - beyond the field of play. On behalf of the Sky Volleyball Club, and each team here tonight, I want to thank you for your generosity, and love for these kids. You are helping our teams reach their goals, and helping to build better young men and women. I am confident in future years; these players will each bring the same commitment, and love for sports, back to their communities.

With gratitude,
Troy Lorensen
President, Sky Volleyball Club
